COPYRIGHT

Copyrighted materials are everywhere—you produce them, and you use them, every day.

What you can and can't do under copyright law is essential knowledge for all UBC faculty, staff and students - both as responsible global citizens, and as responsible teachers, researchers, creators and students. Infringing copyright is a serious matter, but the Library is here to help.

Find information about copyright law, UBC's requirements and contact information for the team of professionals who can assist you:
